BOND COUNTY, Illinois, which made itself spicuous a few years since, by refusing to pay taxes, and other repadiating mevements, not tent with the practical repudiation of honest debts that now disgrace Ill nois, has recently held a general meeting of the citizens," at which an address was adopted against the Canal, against making any effort to pay debts, against texation, and opposed to any species of legislation calcu-lated to rase the reputation and restore the cre-dit of the State. It is difficult to comprehend the metives of men willing to send forth such an ad-The records of convictions in our Courts, farnish mournful ev dences of the fact, that some men are dishorest, but of the multitudenous, convicts in our jails and State Prisons, scarcely one can be found so hardened in crime as to proclaim his deliberate intention to be a rascal. The honor of such unblushing scoundrelism belongs, exclusively, to the cit zens of Bond County. Other repudiators are content with giving a silent vote. or sneakingly avoiding to provide for the pay ment of their honest debts, but Bond County pro claims its premeditated rascality to the world, and invites other sections of the State to follow its lead in the road to infamy. We are glad to see that the Democratic Adva-

rate, of Chicago, scornfully repels the invitation, and vigorously argues in favor of honesty.— There is some hope of reform, as long as the sense of shame is left, but would that we had some other evidence of honesty than mere words .-Gov. Ford talks like a book on the subject, but will he do any thing? Will he joopard his popularity by doing all in his power to restore the prostrate credit of his State? We fear not; and fear, also, that the leprous spot, now confined Bond County, will overspread the State.

It is nonsense to say that nothing can be done

Something can be, if a vigorous effort is made .-Let the right, thinking men, without regard to party, take hold of this subject; let them make common cause ; let them converse, make speeches, and write, in favor of honesty-and they would soon arouse the popular feeling to a sense of the enormity of repudiation.

TIME-SAVING ANSWER.—From advertisements that frequently appear in the passers, and from circular that are sent about the city and country and left under the doors of many of our friends, we are almost every day called upon and asked. It we are not in partnership with a Mr. Dodge?"

In order to prevent any farther, mistakes, and interruptions asked." If we are not in partnership with a Mr. Dodge?"
In order to prevent any farther mixtakes and interruptions from such cash and inquiries, we beg leave to state that we are not, nor never were, in partnership with any Mr. Dodge, and that we have no new, superior, or patent modes, either of setting of factoring feeth; nor do we know of any that are not thoroughly understood by all well-instructed Bentista; and the Doctor who may be his partner, and who has, by mistake of other time, published his name in such a way as to make it resemble ours, so that it is often taken for ours, we have not the pleasure of knowing, either by name, person, pression, or title.

WE DID NOT WISH, as we have the credit of doing, to appear kind, gentlemanty or annable, in our Notice first published on Monday last; but merely wished to state facts to prevent mistakes. Nordid we wish, or expect to avoid a reply; mer do we by "the similarity of names" or by the "professional labors of professional labors of professional labors and soreal names we have been excessively annoyed. We have as all been of Washington, Mr. Bislige's advertisement, of the firm of Doilge and Parmelly of Bond street," and on hearing, at the another than the spoke of his panner as "Doctor I, Parmes of New York," and stated to some of our transit time, that he was "of the same family" with ourselves, when we had not the pleasure of knowing him. If his partner's signature written by his own hand about two years and a half since, and the name by which he is now known, (which is different from the praceding two names by which he was known,) can be relied upon, ne neither has now, nor ever has had a partner by the name of "Doctor I. Parmely," as set forth in his idversaceness. These circumstances have been, and continue to be, the cause of many annoying and disagreeable mistakes, which we shall feel extremely thankful to Mr. Dodge (as far as he can do so) the will rectly, and if we have said, or should say, any thing that is of strettly function. We will be point to out, we shall beel extremely thankful to Mr. Dodge (as far as he can do so) the will rectly, and if we have said, or should from which the public will be fully competent to judge our motives, and to decide whether our first notice will be out.
